Master of Science in Nursing

(NURS_MSN01), (NURS_MSN02), (NURS_MSN05), (NURS_MSN04), (NURS_MSN03), and (NURS_MSN15)

Leslie Rice, Coordinator, Graduate Programs in Nursing

The Master of Science in Nursing prepares advanced nurses to care for individuals, families, and school age children. The curriculum builds on the nursing and scientific knowledge base of the baccalaureate-prepared nurse and focuses on advanced decision-making and critical-thinking skills. Graduates are prepared to accurately and critically assess the health and illness experiences of individuals, families, and school age children to develop health interventions, and to evaluate healthcare outcomes.

The program offers six options. Four nurse practitioner options include: family nurse practitioner, adult nurse practitioner, neonatal nurse practitioner, and a variation in the family nurse practitioner option for BSN-prepared nurse midwives and nurse practitioners. Two additional MSN options are the Clinical Nurse Leader and the School Nurse. The programs begin in the fall. Classes are offered both during the day and evenings. All MSN options include clinical practicum experiences. Most clinical practicum hours are during the day. Clinical experiences take place under the guidance of experienced advanced practice nurses, school nurses, clinical nurse leaders, physicians, or other advanced nursing personnel. Required practicum hours for each course are listed in the course description. All MSN options may be completed in two years and two summers of full-time study. Students may take up to six years of part-time study to complete any of the options. Faculty advisers work closely with each student to plan an appropriate course of study and to ensure progress through the program. There is also a bridge sequence of courses leading to the MSN for RNs with a non-nursing baccalaureate. Two new certification programs are also available. They are for School Nurses who want to be certified by the State. NURS SCT08 is the Non-Instructional Certificate and NURS SCT09 is the School Nurse Instructional Certificate program. These two certification programs have been approved by the Department of Education in the State of New Jersey.

The master degree programs in nursing at The College of New Jersey are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, One Dupont Circle, NW, Suite 530, Washington, DC 20036-1120, 202.887.6791.
